Anderson, Vice President and Clark G. Kaney, Secretary-Treasurer.

The object and purpose of the organization is given in the following Articles of Association:

REMO PREPARES VALUABLE MAP

SEND BRIEFS TO NORMAL REGENTS

J. J. Remo, one of the leading land and real estate men of this city, has just completed a map showing 220 lakes, all trout streams, rivers, highways and railroads within a radius of twelve miles of Rhinelander. The map is the first of its kind of this territory ever prepared and is of great value to local and non-resident sportsmen, summer resort people and all others who are interested in the fish and game region of Oneida county. By the scale of map, which is two inches to the mile, the exact size of the various lakes and their distance from Rhinelander can be ascertained.

Mr. Remo drew the map at the request of Secretary E. O. Barstow of the Rhinelander Advancement Association. It is a perfect piece of work and as an advertisement for this city and surrounding country should be very effective. Plans are being made to have the maps generously and widely distributed. Copies can at present be seen at Mr. Remo's office on Davenport St. and Mr. Barstow's office in the city hall.

FIRST NATIONAL BANK PROTESTS

Objects To Being In Minneapolis Federal Reserve District

With seventy-five other national banks of Wisconsin the First National bank of Rhinelander recently filed a protest against remaining in the Minneapolis federal reserve district. All of these banks had previously to the inauguration of the federal reserve system done business through Chicago. The objection to being in district No. 9, of which Minneapolis is the reserve city, is that Chicago district is much more convenient and satisfactory, as the regular channels of business lead to that city.

Finally, to do all things with an aim in view of bettering conditions in our town, both for the business men and the farmers, for the benefit of our community, to the best of our ability.

Arrangements were made for the placing of an information table in the lobby of the bank, on which will be kept bulletins of interest to the farmers, from the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture and the Wisconsin Agricultural College, and a cordial invitation was extended to all to make use of the said information table.

The plans of the proposed Three Lakes Drainage District were discussed in detail and covered data for the drainage of approximately 3000 acres of marsh lands lying immediately west, and only 60 rods from the village. The levels and reports of the engineers were shown, Association, for the purpose of being also a soil analysis of the Wisconsin Dept. of Agriculture showing the benefit to the Town of Three Lakes and vicinity, and for the soil of the district to be the equal in quality of any marsh or lowing means and purposes:

1. For the purpose of inducing soil in the state of Wisconsin. The new settlers and farmers towards drainage of these thousands of acres coming to, and locating in, our vicinity will be a big boost to Three Lakes and eventually will no doubt mean a

2. For the purpose of cooperating with the Agricultural College at Madison, and the local County Agricultural representative, in an effort to farming community. The members of the Association are very enthusiastic.

3. For the purpose of taking any concentrated action toward the betterment of business conditions in any manner.

4. For the purpose of advertising our town and community as a farming vicinity and center, to the betterment of the public welfare.

5. For the purpose of encouraging the farmers in their efforts, and the hoped that all interested in the securing of better markets for their welfare of Three Lakes will join this Association.

AGRICULTURAL EXHIBIT
An agricultural exhibit from northern Wisconsin is being placed in the lobby of the assembly chamber Madison. This exhibit is made to bring the attention of members of the legislature to the rich agricultural possibilities of the northern section of the state.

ROE LEASES BEACH

H. L. Roe of North Crandon has leased the Beach Inn at Pelican Lake and assumed the proprietorship of the house Monday. The former landlord of the Beach, Ex-sheriff Jim Johnson, was obliged to return on account of ill health.

Mr. Roe is an experienced hotel man, a good fellow, popular with the travelling public and should make a success of the Beach.

LOCAL HIGHS WIN FIFTH VICTORY

Defeat Crandon Quintette In This City Friday By Score 89 To 10

The Rhinelander basket ball quintette won its fifth victory for the season last Friday night at the gymnasium, defeating Crandon by the decisive score of 89 to 10.

The evening's entertainment, which was well attended, opened with a game between the girls' teams representing the sophomore and senior classes. The contest was very close and was followed with much interest by the adherents of both classes; it ended with a sophomore victory 5-4.

The big game was not quite so one-sided as the score might indicate, for the visitors did some pretty passing and basket shooting. There is some very good material among the Crandon lads, and only superior advantages in practice and coaching gave our boys an easy game.

The game was refereed by Ray Sorenson, to the entire satisfaction of both sides. Mr. Brazure of Crandon acted as umpire. The line-up for the teams was as follows:

Frogner, A. C. Crawford, B. McRae, W. F. Ritter, G. Cain, R. F. Luttermann, L. Danielson, A. G. Aird, R. Arnold, D. G. Burmeister, W. Subs. Subs.

Strope, Z. Wyman, L. Danielson, C.

White, R.

The Crandon team came in on the morning train on the Soo and spent the day about the school. They were accompanied by their superintendent, Mr. Brazure, and four enthusiastic co-eds. A more prepossessing lot of boys and girls have seldom visited us, and we shall be very glad to welcome them again.

LENT BEGINS

Yesterday was Ash Wednesday, the first day of Lent, which will continue until Easter Sunday, April 4. The forty days of fasting previous to Easter will be observed especially by Catholics, Episcopalians and Lutherans. Sundays are not included as fast days.

During this time it is customary to do penance and make sacrifices of pleasures. No marriage will be performed during this time in Catholic churches. Special Lenten services will be held in Catholic, Lutheran and Episcopal churches.

TRAINING SCHOOL NOTES
The following teachers visited this school Monday: Mary Huber, Mark Gibbs, Jennings; Constantine Nagel, Mabel White, Monica; Sadie Dusel, Enterprise.

The class in rural economics is doing practical work by making a social survey of a certain district in this city. The results of this survey will be tabulated by members of the class and filed in the office of the Advancement Association. To prepare the class to do this work, Secretary Barstow of the Advancement Association talked to the class on the value of this survey.

SPRING LIKE WEATHER

The soft, spring-like weather of the last week has played havoc with the sleighing, making it bad for lumbermen in carrying on logging operations. Farmers who have logs to haul are also wishing for a change in the weather. It is much too early for the spring break-up and more winter can be expected, say weather prophets.

SUPREME COURT SAYS STATE REFORESTATION LAW INVALID

Decision Declares Constitution Not Properly Amended--People Of Oneida and Other Northern Counties Rejoice

Satisfactory Termination Of Long Fight

Oneida county citizens had just cause for rejoicing Friday when word came from Madison that the Wisconsin supreme court had decided the state reforestation law invalid. The court's decision was made known Friday forenoon and the news was first received in Rhinelander by Judge H. F. Steele, who was the recipient of a private telegram from Madison.

In substance the court holds that section 10 of article 8 of the constitution was not legally amended; that the land contracts for the purchase of forestry reserve lands are void and not authorized by the statute. The present forestry statutes are unconstitutional and void; that the diversion of the trust funds is unlawful, and a referee, the Hon. Samuel D. Hastings, Green Bay, is appointed to settle the account between the state and its trust funds, and a lien on the lands belonging to the trust funds and unlawfully sold.

The amendment to the constitution designed to permit works of internal improvement, at state expense, as to forestry matters, was not legally adopted. The land purchase contracts purporting to obligate the state for forestry matters, was not legally adopted, says the court.

CHEESE FACTORY FOR SUGAR CAMP

BREAD AT SIX CENTS MONDAY

F. R. Tripp Donates Site For Plant To Be Built By Wausau Man

Local Bakers Are Finally Compelled to Raise Price of Their Product

(By W. D. Judy, County Representative.)

Oneida county is to have another cheese factory, this one to be located in the town of Sugar Camp. F. R. Tripp has donated a site for the factory, and it will be built near his store where the shipping facilities are most advantageous. B. H. Hoffman of Marathon City, Wis., is going to build the factory. Mr. Hoffman is an experienced cheese man, having been manager of a large cooperative concern in Marathon county before deciding to locate here.

He had investigated two other possible locations before coming to Oneida county, but after seeing conditions near Robbins, he immediately decided to start a factory there. He expressed surprise at finding so many good dairy cattle in this northern country, saying that our general run of dairy cattle is much superior to that of the average farmer in central and southern Wisconsin. Mr. Hoffman is at his home in Marathon City at the present time, but expects to be back to the county within the next two weeks and start building at once. He has hopes of getting his factory in running condition by the latter part of June. The farmers of Sugar Camp whom Mr. Hoffman visited expressed themselves as having great confidence in Mr. Hoffman's ability, not only as a cheese man but also as a business man, and a general good citizen. The community of Sugar Camp is indeed fortunate in being able to locate such a man as Mr. Hoffman, but, on the other hand, Mr. Hoffman can consider himself fortunate in having such a promising place in which to start a factory in his line of work.

Seeing no prospects of a slump in the price of flour, Rhinelander bakers have decided to raise the price of bread from five to six cents per loaf, beginning next Monday.

Local bakers have been slow in making this move, holding off with the hopes that flour would become cheaper. At the present time there are no indications that this most necessary commodity will take a drop and in order to realize only a small profit bakers are forced to resort to the six cent loaf. The price of rolls, biscuits and other bakery products which have heretofore been selling at ten cents per dozen will be advanced to twelve cents on Monday.

It is understood the local bakers will not maintain these prices any longer than is absolutely necessary. As soon as flour begins to get somewhere near its normal price again, bakery patrons will be given the benefit of the decline.

TAKEN TO NORTHERN ASYLUM
Mrs. Pat Sage, an old and well-known north side resident, was taken to the Northern Hospital at Winnebago for treatment Saturday. Sheriff Crofoot and Rev. Wuchter escorted her to the institution. Mrs. Sage is a widow, her husband having died a few weeks ago.

ANDERSON WILL BUILD
Andrew Anderson, whose saloon and residence building opposite the main entrance to the fair grounds, was practically ruined by fire last Thursday, says that he will rebuild on the same lot in the spring. He was granted a liquor license for that location and cannot legally put up the building on another lot.

SENATOR NEWTON AND CONGRESSMAN LUNDIN MEET THE GOOD JUDGE.

WHEN men tell their friends about "Right-Cut" they call it the Real Tobacco Chew. Right there you have the secret of "Right-Cut" success—the fact that it has so many advantages causes men to tell the good news to their friends.

A little chew of pure, rich, mellow tobacco—cut fine, short shred—seasoned and sweetened just enough, cuts but so much of the grinding and spitting.

Take a very small chew—less than one-quarter the old size. It will be more satisfying than a mouthful of ordinary tobacco. Just nibble on it until you find the strength chew that suits you. Tuck it away. Then let it rest. See how easily and evenly the real tobacco taste comes, how it satisfies without grinding, how much less you have to spit, how few chews you take to be tobacco satisfied. That's why it is The Real Tobacco Chew. That's why it costs less in the end.

It is a ready chew, ready and short shred so that you won't have to grind on it with your teeth. Grinding on ordinary tobacco makes you spit too much.

The taste of pure, rich tobacco does not need to be covered up with molasses and "Excise." Notice how the salt brings out the rich tobacco taste in "Right-Cut."

One small chew takes the place of two big chews of the old kind.

SUPREME COURT SAYS STATE REFORESTATION LAW INVALID

Decision Declares Constitution Not Properly Amended—People Of Oneida and Other Northern Counties Rejoice

Satisfactory Termination Of Long Fight

(Continued from first page) tion of the commissioners of public lands and the attempt to displace them and turn control of the land over to the board of forestry is void.

The legislation setting aside the trust lands for forestry purposes and devoting one class and the moneys arising from the other class, to the building up of a forest reserve is unconstitutional except insofar as relates to use of the trust lands to produce proceeds for the trust fund.

The law of 1897 directing payment into the general fund of all moneys derived from the trust lands is unconstitutional.

The law of 1897 was repealed by adoption of the revised statutes of 1898 so that payment of the moneys derived from trust lands since 1897, and payment of the moneys so derived since 1905 into the general fund or forestry fund are unconstitutional.

The money and property diverted as indicated from its constitutional purpose with interest thereon, belongs to the trust funds.

From the use of the trust fund in the forestry business a lien exists on the contract lands and moneys appropriated by the legislature for purchase of lands to secure restoration of the trust funds which may be protected by paying, when money is available, the balance due upon such contract, the land to form part of the trust fund property.

No money can be appropriated by the legislature except for state expense and pursuant to a legislative estimate and legislative levy as provided in the constitution.

The constitution contemplates only taxation for state expense, but forestry work and improvement is legitimate so far as it is within the field of state expense and does not enter the field of internal improvement as a primary matter.

Finding Of Court

Following is a verbatim copy of the mandate of the Wisconsin supreme court:

"By the court: It is considered, ordered, decreed and adjudged that

"First. The demurrer to defendant's pleading be and is overruled.

"Second. The land contract mentioned in the petition is void for reasons indicated in the opinion, particularly because:

"A. It created a state debt and created such when state indebtedness exceeded the constitutional limit.

"B. It is an evidence of indebtedness within the state constitutional prohibition.

"C. The contract was not authorized by statute.

"D. By section 10, art. VIII, at the date of the contract, it is still within the 'works of internal improvement' feature of the forestry statutes, (though they are in important features, as indicated in the opinion, not so tainted) and the additions, in form, to such section in November, 1910, failed for reasons stated in the opinion.

"E. It is an inseparable part of the forestry legislation and particularly of the invalid features thereof stated in the opinion.

"Third. The forestry legislation, including section 1072-1, chapter 367, laws of 1897; chapter 405, laws of 1913, and chapter 264, laws of 1905, and such other acts as there may be, did not repeal or affect sections 250 and 257, statutes 1898, for reasons cited in the opinion. Such sections are part of the written law of the state and govern the matters therein referred to.

"Fourth. All land desired by the state from the United States, under the swamp land grants, the lands in lieu of swamp lands, set aside for educational purposes under chapter 537, laws of 1865, and conferred by chapter 151, laws of 1869, and subsequent practice, and all other lands derived or in lieu of swamp lands and required to be set apart under the terms of said sections 250 and 251, by section 2, art. X. of the constitution and the legislative action referred to became, and so far as not disposed of are school fund lands as regards the manner of handling the same, subject to the constitutional duty to conserve the same for the purpose of producing money for the school fund, as indicated in the opinion, but under the control of the legislature in respect to the manner of dealing therewith for such purpose.

"Fifth. The sections of the statutes composing chapter 740, laws of 1912, and those composing chapter 491, laws of 1907, are unconstitutional for the reasons stated in the opinion.

"Sixth. The provisions of the forestry legislation, other than the features mentioned, are valid within the limitations stated in the opinion.

"Seventh. The state has an equitable lien on the lands included in the illegal contract for the money paid thereon, and such money equitably is declared to have been trust money, whereby such lien inures to the benefit of the trust fund property."

The shorthand department of the Ferris Institute numbers about three hundred students gathered from all over the states, and Rhinelander certainly should be proud of the boys who are thus honored. The opponents who were the former class officers were completely out-distanced in the race for department honors.

GRIFFITH WILL CONTINUE WORK

State Forester Says Administration Is Not Affected By Court's Decision

State Forester E. M. Griffith, in commenting on the state supreme court's decision in knocking out the state reforestation law said to the Madison correspondent of the Milwaukee Free Press:

"Under the forestry decision, the state forestry department as constituted will continue as it is now. The work of administration is not touched upon by the supreme court's decision. It is unconstitutional until the constitution is amended for the state to purchase any more land primarily for forestry purpose, but the legislature can purchase additional lands to enhance the value of the west quarter of the Northeast quarter trust fund land, and they can be managed incidentally as part of the quarter of the Southeast quarter (SE 1/4 SE 1/4) of Section Ten (10), Town

"The lands in the forestry reserve thirty-nine (39) north of Range 11, Lots three (3), five (5) and six (6) in section eleven (11), and Lot two (2) in section of the forest reserve by act of the legislature. All these lands are now (39) north of range eight (8) east; held to belong to the school trust fund. The extent of this land was west quarter (SW 1/4 NW 1/4), the west one-half of the southeast quarter

"A second source of land was derived from the purchase by act of SE 1/4 NW 1/4, the southeast quarter of section one (1); Lots

"An appropriation of $10,000 a year SW 1/4, of section one (1); Lots

"was made from the general fund. It one (1) and four (4) in section six (6); the northeast quarter (NE 1/4) of section nine (9); Lot two (2) in section eleven (11); the north one-half of the southwest quarter (NW 1/4 SW 1/4) of section thirteen (13); the south one-half of the south one-half of the northwest quarter of the southwest quarter (SW 1/4 NW 1/4); the northwest quarter (NW 1/4 SW 1/4); the northwest quarter of the southeast quarter (NW 1/4 SE 1/4) of section fourteen (14); all

"In 1911 $50,000 a year was appropriated for five years to carry out and purchase contracts. This money came from the general fund. The supreme court now holds that the state has a lien on these lands, and must complete their purchase out of the trust fund, and afterward it will be determined, as I see it, what interest the state has in these funds, and what interest belongs to the trust fund or to the school fund. On these land contracts 56,636 acres have been contracted for on which NE 1/4 of section twenty (20); the payment must be completed.

"In addition there were purchases made out of the forest reserve fund. As I see it, such land now belongs SE 1/4 of section twenty-two (22), in all in township thirty-nine (39) north, in part to the school fund.

"Then there is the government grant of 20,000 acres, and a gift from Weyerhaeuser of 5,000 acres, with "The State of Wisconsin to the said defendants and each of them:

You are hereby summoned to appear within twenty days after the service of this summons, exclusive of the day of service, to defend the above entitled action in the court

L. H. Persons was called here this week by the serious illness of his daughter, Mrs. C. E. Clark. While enroute to this city from Minneapolis he was robbed of $45.

Mr. Persons arrived in Rhinelander on the Soo Line at 2:10 Thursday morning, and learning that he would have to wait until 5:35 a. m. before a train on the Northwestern would leave for Antigo, he lay down on the cushioned seats in the Soo depot and went to sleep. There were three gentlemen in the depot at the time. They were dressed in uniform and looked like musicians.

When Mr. Persons awoke the three men were gone, but he didn't discover the loss of the money until leaving Rhinelander. He may have lost the money while going from the Soo to the C. & N. W. depot but believe it more probable that it helped the musicians on their trip to the west. Antigo News Item.

CAMPBELL SEES BIG LAND BOOM

The decision of the supreme court in declaring the state forestry laws invalid will be a great aid toward the development of the northern part of Wisconsin, according to A. D. Campbell of the Wisconsin Advanced Association on Friday to a Milwaukee Sentinel reporter.

"The state has 53,000 acres on which it has made part payments, amounting to $90,000 on the principal and $3,500 in interest," said Mr. Campbell. "There is an amount of $139,000 still due. I believe, according to the decision of the court, all of the transactions will be invalid and the lands will be returned to the land companies.

"For the last few years, settlers have been backward about going into the northern country on account of the fear that the land would be taken over by the state. The state forster, E. M. Griffith, proposed to make all of Vilas and parts of Forest, Oneida, Price and Iron counties into a monster forest reserve, amounting to 1,500,000 acres.

"This land will be taken up by the land companies now and opened for settlers. Homesteaders will have no fear of going into the country, as there is no danger that it can be taken over by the state.

"Plant trees on the bare, untilled hills in the western part of the state; in ravines and on stony land. It will serve to beautify the country and aid the people of the entire state.

WOMEN SHOULD VISIT THE STORES

If housewives only knew that there are many opportunities to reduce the cost of living by visiting the grocery stores today, seems as though they would grasp the chance.

At this time of the year nearly every grocer looks over his stock and finds many articles that he is "overloaded" with.

All good class stock but he has over bought, or the demand was not as he expected.

He must move these goods and I willing to sacrifice his profits to reduce the stock.

He can't display the goods over the telephone.

In order to see the goods and select the best bargains it is necessary for the housewife to visit the store where she will usually find many mighty good bargains displayed in show windows, baskets or on bargain counters ready for her.

It means not only money saved, but a knowledge of new goods on the market if every buyer of foodstuffs would visit their grocer two or three times a week at least. Try it and see.

Entered at the Postoffice at Rhinelander, Wis. as Second Class
Mail Matter

The supreme court certainly handed the K. O. punch to Mr. Griffith's policies.

Senator LaFollette should have the cooperation of both friends and enemies in his peace proposals.

What has become of that naughty kid, who always sent his teacher a comic valentine?

Advertising is the life of trade, and the local newspapers are the ones in which to place your announcements.

Fall in line and give Mr. Barstow your earnest support in his efforts to make Rhinelander the bright spot of northern Wisconsin.

If Assemblyman Heden's anti-treaty bill should become a law it would mean prohibition for the fellows who never drink except when their friends buy it.

The next time you are tempted to buy goods out of town just remember that Sears & Roebuck, Montgomery Ward & Co., and all the other big mail order houses never did a thing for the good of Rhinelander.

The big magazines and publications are now full of the advertisements of nationally known goods. Mr. Merchant if you handle any of these goods, get them to the front and let people know that they can get right at home, these nationally advertised products. Derive some benefit from the big advertising campaigns. Did you ever stop to think you are helping to pay for this advertising, when you place these goods in stock? Push them and get the benefit and some of your money back.

THE FORESTRY DECISION

For about four years the inhabitants of Oneida and adjoining counties have been fighting the efforts of State Forester Griffith, backed by the Forestry Commission and a number of legislators, who were determined to turn this country into a wilderness, with the only inhabitants a few summer resorters located in cabins under the supervision of the State Forester, and the actual farmers bought out or driven out. Sentiment was slowly swinging in our favor anyway, but this Supreme Court decision drives the nail to the head at once and forever, for it settles all the questions that we have been debating, and we will not have to go to any further expense, defending ourselves. Instead of a wilderness of stumps and brush, north of us, we are going to see hundreds of fine farms in a few years.

People have been asking for several years past "What influence is this forestry matter going to have on the development of northern Wisconsin". It has been rather difficult to answer this, although we have always had faith that matters would come out all right, but there has been a deterring influence, that has prevented many a stranger from investing money here. He was afraid that the state would shut him all in with forest reserve lands. He was afraid that there would be too much state land, paying no taxes, that the cost of administering his local town government would fall on the shoulders of the few. He was afraid that there would be no roads through state lands, for fear of fires.

The Rhinelander "Scrubs" bowling team returned from Minneapolis Tuesday morning where they participated in the International Bowling Tournament which is being held in that city. The local five, who were Joe Buskey, W. J. Morgan, T. J. Lawrence, Matt Korbenott and C. R. Baldwin, made a good showing and got well up in the prize money with a score of 2644.

Over $600.00 will be given in prizes. Several lady teams have entered the tournament. A total of 211 teams roll at the big meet which closes Monday, Feb. 22.

undoubtedly have gone through un-checked. It had progressed to the point where the state had obligated itself to buy about 200,000 acres. The decision puts this all back to where it was in the start, the money received by those lumbermen will have to be returned to the state, and they will get their lands back again. Some of them will do what they ought to have done years ago, prepare to sell the lands to settlers, to build roads and schools and spend a little money in making the wild country ready for human occupancy. They will have to pay their share of the taxes for supporting this government hereafter.

Oneida county and northern Wisconsin is going to get a lot of advertising of a favorable character out of this business. It may be a year or so before any of the state lands are placed on sale, or any of those referred to in this article, but they will all eventually come onto the market and be sold to settlers or large land owners, who have the means for developing, or colonizing the lands. It is going to be a big thing for Rhinelander, and every piece of property in this city is worth more money today, by reason of this decision, than it was a week ago. There will be a rapid growth in the population of this city, and the surrounding country, and we are going to see a big start this year.

TEAM FALLS FROM THE SOO VIADUCT

While pulling a wood wagon across the Soo line Brown street viaduct, Wednesday forenoon, a team of horses owned by Brown Bros' Lumber company, crashed through the railing of the structure and fell twelve feet to the ground below. The accident occurred as the horses were going down the approach and is thought to have been caused by the skidding of the sleigh, which pushed the team against the railing. Remarkable as it may seem the animals are said to have escaped with slight injuries and were again in the harness that afternoon. Helke Dahlson was the driver.

The accident was a most unusual one and also a fortunate one as the results could have been much more serious.

The Rhinelander "Scrubs" bowling team returned from Minneapolis Tuesday morning where they participated in the International Bowling Tournament which is being held in that city. ## NECK BROKEN BY FALLING TREE

While at work in the lumber woods, near Hiles Friday, John Semanowitz, age 36, employed by the Brown Brothers' Lumber company at Tomahawk Lake in this township is state land, there is very by a falling tree and killed. His little land for sale and there are a neck was broken.

We might cite the case of the Semanowitz's remains were brought to this city Saturday and the funeral services to move in there, but could not be held from Hildebrand's never close up a bargain, because dertaking rooms Friday morning. The newcomers were afraid of these Semanowitz had no relatives in these very points. There is some splendid country, but is said to have a wife land there, not far from the state in Poland, his native land. He was married, and close to good roads, but it is insured under the workman's compensation act. It would make splendid farms, and that is what is going to happen to him before long.

It is a well known fact that this policy of buying up lands in this district originated in the offices of certain lumbermen, who had large tracts of land cut over, and wishing to move to some new locality, in Mississippi or Alabama or Washington, look around for some buyer who could take their vast holdings. They decided that the state of Wisconsin ought to buy it, and made their plans accordingly. Had it not been for the stubborn resistance of the people of Oneida county and their friends in adjacent counties, this scheme would have been successful. The supreme court certainly handed the K. O. punch to Mr. Griffith's policies.

What has become of that naughty kid, who always sent his teacher a comic valentine?

EVENTS OF WEEK IN NEARBY TOWNS

Eagle River—

James Nevins, superintendent of northern Wisconsin within the state fish hatcheries, has decided to locate the new sub-hatchery in this city. Work will be commenced on the building in time to have it completed and in operation for the session of the legislature empowers spring spawning. Plenty of fry for the state tax commission to restock the lakes and streams of Vilas county will be furnished by this hatchery.

Tonawha—

Burned to death in a fire which destroyed a building on the Bass Lake farm was the fate of Henry Searl, assessor of the town of King. Friday morning, Searl had made the building his sleeping quarters several years. The origin of the fire is a mystery and it is believed Searl was suffocated by smoke and unable to escape. Searl was 58 years of age and a well known resident of the county.

Merrill—

At the suggestion of the Industrial Commission, a safety appliance was installed by the Milwaukee road in cooperation with the Grandfather Falls Company. The device was a post, which provided a swinging gate that kept workmen from crossing the track from the buildings while there was a train on track. Mark Jenny, a switchman in the employ of the railroad company was seriously injured by being struck by this post and knocked from the train.

Washburn—

A large number of new members have been added to the Washburn Commercial Club during the past two weeks as the result of the membership campaign which has been waged. The campaign will be continued until the membership of the club reaches the 1,000 mark and club members are confident this can be done within a very short time. The Washburn Commercial Club is a very active organization and is doing much to promote the welfare of the city. A license campaign will be waged in Washburn this spring. The saloons were voted out last spring and the city has been dry for nearly a year.

Ladysmith—

Rusk county had its second "common law marriage" on February 5 when George W. Bailey and Minnie Flutback, both of this city, filed their marriage contract in the office of Register of Deeds. A. H. McCormick will erect a two story business block on Worden Avenue in this city in the spring.

Grand Rapids—

Amos Skinner of Boston, is in the city in search of R. H. Moore, of whom he purchased, as he supposed an interest in a Wood county cranberry marsh, for $7200. Skinner met Moore in a Chicago hotel, some six years ago, where the transaction took place. Not getting any dividends or word from Moore, Mr. Skinner wrote several times to him but received no answer. He became suspicious and made a trip to this city to locate him, but authorities here do not know anyone by that name. All he has to show is a receipt for the amount that he paid to Moore.

COLDS AND CROUP IN CHILDREN

Many people rely upon Chamberlain's Cough Remedy implicitly in cases of colds and croup, and it never disappoints them. Mrs. El H. Thoras, Logansport, Ind., writes: "I have found Chamberlain's Cough Remedy to be the best medicine for colds and croup I have ever used, and never tire of recommending it to my neighbors and friends. I have always given it to my children when suffering from croup, and it has never failed to give them prompt relief."

TOWNS WILL LOSE STATE TAX MONEY

A score of towns in five counties of northern Wisconsin within the state fish hatcheries, has decided to locate the new sub-hatchery in this city. Work will be commenced on the building in time to have it completed and in operation for the session of the legislature empowers state taxes for local purposes on the state lands within these counties.

The Stevens bill passed at the last session of the legislature empowers the state tax commission to make the assessment of state lands in the counties of Forest, Iron, Oneida, Price and Vilas for the purpose of taxation was declared unconstitutional in the forestry decision.

Although the taxes have been assessed for the last two years the secretary of state did not pay the taxes because of the pending forestry case.

The supreme court decision takes the law up for consideration and finds that it is unconstitutional.

The state lands in these counties were assessed by the state tax commission at a value of $1,293,103 and the taxes for the first year were fixed at $16,255.29. Practically the same assessment with the same amount of taxes were announced for collections this year. The law was passed in response to a demand from the towns in these counties, it being claimed that unless the state lands could be taxed for local purposes the rate of taxation within the counties would be too high for the settlers to bear.
